39th Annual ASN Meeting First Call for Session Proposals San Antonio, Texas – March 1-5, 2008

The 39th annual meeting of the American Society for Neurochemistry (ASN) will be held in San Antonio, Texas from March 1-5, 2008. The program committee invites you to submit proposals for symposia, colloquia and informal workshops.

The ASN program has traditionally encompassed 4 broad themes:

- 1) Building the Nervous System
- 2) Glial Mechanisms & Injury
- 3) Metabolism, Cellular and Molecular Neurobiology
- 4) Neurodegeneration & disease

The program committee encourages proposals from younger investigators, and recommends that senior investigators consider having a junior investigator as a co-organizer. Both ASN members and non-members are invited to submit proposals.

Details for submitting session proposals can be found at:

<http://www.asneurochem.org/ASN2008Proposals.htm>

Questions and inquiries about session topics and session formats can be directed to Terri Wood (woodte@umdnj.edu).

The deadline for session proposals is April 1, 2007.

Examples of ASN symposia, colloquia and workshops from the 2004-2006 annual ASN meetings can be found on the ASN website:
